The Newburgh Enlarged City School District established the S.A.V.E. Committee to ensure that the Code of Conduct is developed and annually reviewed with input from students, teachers, administrators, parent organizations, school safety personnel, and other personnel. The S.A.V.E. Committee, with participation of representatives from the above groups, meets seven times during the year, with additional meetings scheduled as necessary. As part of its advisory functions, the committee recommends to the Superintendent of Schools changes to the Code to be presented at the Board of Education's Annual Public Hearing on the Code of Conduct.

NOTICE OF NON-DISCRIMINATION

SECTION 1

The Newburgh Enlarged City School District (“District”) is committed to ensuring that our schools are safe and inclusive learning environments where every student, staff and faculty member is supported, respected, and able to engage in teaching and learning each day.

PHILOSOPHY OF RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Newburgh Enlarged City School District is committed to maintaining high standards of excellence for all students in all schools. Because we believe that the education of children is a shared cooperative effort. The District is also committed to fostering safe and supportive structured environments where meaningful teaching thrives and partnership with parents, students, families, and the community. We believe that school/family/community partnerships ensure that in-school behavior expectations for students are known, acknowledged, supported and emphasized at home, at school, and throughout the community. We expect our children to receive a quality education and accept our responsibility to emphasize the educational values incorporated in the Qualities of Good Citizenship (Honesty, Compassion, Respect, and Responsibility). We believe that high expectations promote achievement and will support high educational demands. We believe that students of all ages should be assisted in developing responsible behavior and will teach our children through our examples and the rules we set. We believe that students have rights and that with those rights come responsibilities.

Student discipline and support policies and practices will be implemented in a manner which is caring and equitable, respectful and based on trust among administration, staff, faculty, students, and families and holds all individuals accountable, but is restorative and solutions oriented, rather than punitive.

The District believes that maintaining a safe, respectful, and supportive learning environment is a shared responsibility among the school, families, and the community. In addition, it is our belief that, to be effective, a code of conduct must:

The District believes that maintaining a safe, respectful, and supportive learning environment is a shared responsibility among the school, families, and the community. In addition, it is our belief that, to be effective, a code of conduct must:

- identify, recognize, and emphasize acceptable behavior;
- identify, recognize, and prevent unacceptable behavior;
- promote self-discipline;
- consider the welfare of the individual as well as that of the school community as a whole;
- promote a close working relationship between parents/guardians and the school faculty and staff;
- distinguish between minor and serious offenses, as well as between first-time and repeat offenders; • provide disciplinary responses that are appropriate to the misbehavior;
- outline procedures to ensure that the District Code of Conduct is administered in a way that is fair, firm, reasonable, and consistent;
- encourage a high regard for every person’s right to reasonable hearing procedures and due process, when accused of misconduct;
- comply with the provisions of Federal, State and local laws, as well as the guidelines and directives of the New York State Department of Education and the Board of Regents.

Students, staff, faculty, parents and visitors are expected to become familiar with the provisions of the District Code of Conduct (and the rules and regulations adopted and implemented by their individual schools). Students are also expected to abide by the policies set forth in the Code, so that every student has the opportunity to grow and develop as a positive, productive, responsible, respectful and caring member of the school community and society.

PARENT/GUARDIANS AS PARTNERS

Students, parents and school personnel all have a role in making our schools safe and must cooperate with one another to achieve this goal. All school personnel should keep parents/guardians (“parents”) informed of their child’s behavior and enlist parents as partners in addressing areas of concern. Outreach to parents can include, but is not limited to, a phone call and/or a written (including email) communication. As role models, parents and school personnel should exhibit the behaviors which they would like to see students demonstrate. To ensure that parents become active and involved partners in promoting a safe and supportive school environment, parents must be familiar with the District Code of Conduct. School personnel are responsible for informing parents about their child's behavior and for nurturing the skills students need to succeed in school and in society. Parents are encouraged to discuss with their child's teacher and other school personnel, issues that may affect student behavior and strategies that might be effective in working with the student. It is important that there be maximum consultation and communication between the school and the home. Guidance conferences attended by the principal or his/her designee, a school counselor, the student's parents, and one or more of the student's teachers are an effective means of encouraging parental input and should be held with students where appropriate. Parents who want to discuss interventions in response to student behavior should contact their child's school. (see pg. 9)

Parent Notification

School officials are responsible for sharing the information in this document with students, parents and staff. The District will make every effort to provide this information through multimedia methods including:

- A link on the District website in various languages and accessible to individuals with disabilities
- Audio link in various languages and accessible to individuals with disabilities

In the event a student engages in inappropriate behavior, the principal or principal's designee must report the behavior to the student's parent/guardian. When there is reason to believe that a student has committed a crime, the police must be summoned and the parent must be contacted.

The Newburgh Enlarged City School District Code of Conduct was developed to ensure that students – and all members of the school community – learn and engage in appropriate behavior that supports student success in life and in society. The standards are for the entire School District and all of its individual school communities. It lays out the District's expectations for students, parents, guardians and school building personnel, and staff, and it lists and describes the inappropriate and disruptive behaviors that are unacceptable in school settings. Because the Newburgh Enlarged City School District is committed to correcting inappropriate behaviors within its school settings so that students may remain in school and learn, the Standards include prevention and intervention strategies to be used, as appropriate, with any discipline response.

Attendance

Regular school attendance is essential to a student's academic progress, engagement, and overall success. Teachers will monitor attendance and provide appropriate outreach, intervention, and support for students who exhibit attendance concerns, including patterns of unexcused absences or truancy. Unexcused absences are absences that do not meet the District's criteria for an excused absence, while truancy refers to unauthorized or willful absences from school or class without the knowledge or permission of a parent/guardian or the school. In cases of truancy or persistent patterns of unexcused absences, teachers will meet with the student and parent/guardian to identify barriers to attendance and determine appropriate supports and interventions. These may include, but are not limited to, attendance improvement plans, counseling referrals, referrals to after-school programs, family outreach, and connections to community-based resources, as appropriate.

SECTION 2 – Acknowledgement of Code of Conduct

SEE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF CODE OF CONDUCT FORM ON PAGE 55. PLEASE REVIEW, SIGN, DISCUSS WITH YOUR CHILD, AND LASTLY, RETURN TO YOUR CHILD'S SCHOOL.

TRAINING ON THE CODE OF CONDUCT

The District will annually provide training for all school personnel in implementing the Code of Conduct and effective student management strategies in accordance with the responsibilities and expectations as set forth in this Code.

In-service training will be provided in a variety of modes, such as school- or District-level meetings and workshops, presentations, joint meetings of designated school personnel, courses, webinars, and demonstrations of school- or District-wide prevention or intervention strategies or programs.

In keeping with its commitment to maintain children in classrooms and schools to the maximum extent possible, the District will provide training in areas that foster an expansive approach to discipline, such as: 1) professional development and training on classroom management; and 2) ways in which staff will be supported when disciplinary issues arise in the classroom. It also includes ways that engage parents, such as developing effective systems of communicating with parents, holding school social events, and other activities that engage parents in their children's learning and in the school community.

Annually, the District will solicit parents, school personnel, staff, and student input on proactive interventions to be implemented as part of an expansive approach to alternatives to discipline. The District will also consider conducting a needs assessment of what preventive programs would best meet the needs of the District's schools. The input received will be considered for developing recommendations for inclusion as part of the Code of Conduct Training activities.

The schedule of training activities will be shared with the Board of Education to support the effective implementation of the Code of Conduct. The schedule of training activities will be The District will work to ensure that the community is aware of this code of conduct by:

1. Providing copies of the code to all students at an assembly or in class at the beginning of each school year.
2. Posting the complete code of conduct on the district's website.
3. Providing all current teachers and other staff members with a copy of the code and a copy of any amendments to the code as soon as practicable after adoption.
4. Providing all new employees with a copy of the current code of conduct when they are first hired.
5. Making the complete code available for review by students, parents and other community members.
6. Students and Parents/Guardians will review and sign the acknowledgement tear off sheet that can be found on p.55 in the Code of Conduct.

EMERGENCY SITUATIONS: PROTECTIVE ACTIONS AND RECOMMENDED PARENT RESPONSES

The District and each school building maintain school safety plans that detail response procedures for possible emergencies. The protocols for emergency response vary based on the particular circumstances. When conditions warrant an emergency response, local law enforcement collaborates with District and building administration to determine the most appropriate response based on the information available and the particular circumstances.

Building Lockdown - Students, school personnel and staff will remain in their current location and no one will be allowed to leave until the situation has been resolved. Students will not be released from school. Parents should not attempt to pick up their children nor should they come to any school building requesting to release their child. be present at school. Parents should not call the school. Parents should monitor local radio stations and the District's website for information.

Building Lockout – This procedure curtails activity outside of the school building, central office and all district offices: access is limited. This procedure allows the school to continue the normal school day.

Evacuation - Moving students for their protection from a school building to a predetermined location in response to an emergency.

Secure the Building – Controlled access to the building is extended to the campus perimeter. This procedure indicates that a serious situation exists within the building and that all students and staff are to immediately move out of the hallways and into the classrooms. Law enforcement will dictate subsequent actions until the situation has been resolved.

Short-Term Shelter-in-Place – The entire school and/or building population moves to a single location or to multiple locations within a school building or district building. The receiving areas of the building will have been checked and declared safe. The students, staff and building personnel will remain in that location until the situation has been resolved. This is most commonly used during bomb threats and weather emergencies. During Homeland Security Emergencies, students who cannot be sent home because a responsible adult is not home to receive the student will be sheltered at a designated location that will be supervised by District personnel and law enforcement. When a responsible adult is available, the student can be picked up.

Transfer to Alternate Location or Emergency Shelter – In the event that the building is evacuated and is not cleared for re-entry, all persons will be directed to an alternative evacuation site as directed by District administration and/or law enforcement.

SECTION 3 – Creating Safe, Supportive, and Inclusive Schools

PROMOTING POSITIVE STUDENT BEHAVIOR

School culture and climate have a profound impact upon students' academic progress and their relationships with peers and adults. Each school is expected to promote a positive school culture that provides students with a supportive environment in which to grow both socially, emotionally and academically.

Schools are expected to take a proactive role in nurturing students' pro-social behavior. Social-emotional learning must be a basic component of a school's program of universal prevention for all students. Effective social-emotional learning helps students develop fundamental life skills, including:

When students develop these skills, they experience more positive relationships with peers, engage in more positive social behaviors and are less likely to engage in misconduct.

Establishing a school-wide tiered framework of behavioral supports and interventions is essential to implementing progressive discipline. The goal of behavioral supports is to foster resiliency, help students understand and adhere to the Code of Conduct, and support them in developing the skills they need to meet behavioral expectations.

School personnel members are also responsible for addressing inappropriate student behaviors that disrupt learning. Administrators, teachers, counselors, and other school personnel are expected to engage all students in intervention and prevention strategies that address a student's behavioral issues and discuss these strategies with the student and his/her parent(s).

All staff and school personnel are expected to understand that students may come to school having experienced trauma in their lives, which can impact their behavior in school (e.g., anger, outbursts, withdrawal, self-injury).

Intervention and prevention strategies include, but are not limited to:

- Support and services to address personal and family circumstances;
 - Social-emotional learning;
 - Conflict resolution;
 - Peer mediation;
 - Collaborative negotiation;
 - Restorative practices (e.g., circles, formal restorative conferences);
 - Anger management;
 - Stress management;
 - Collaborative problem solving;
 - Communication skills acquisition;
 - The use of alternate instructional materials and/or methods; enrichment services and/or
 - Development or review of functional behavioral assessments and behavioral intervention plans for students with disabilities.
- For other students, behavior plans may be developed and/or reviewed as an early intervention strategy.

By using behavioral supports and intervention strategies that engage students and give them a clear sense of purpose, school personnel members facilitate students' academic and social-emotional growth and assist them in following school rules and policies.

Equally important, student engagement is integral to creating a positive school culture that fosters students' social-emotional growth and academic achievement. Providing students with multiple opportunities to participate in a wide range of pro-social activities and, at the same time, bond with caring, supportive adults can help prevent negative behaviors. Examples may include:

- Meaningful opportunities to share ideas and concerns and participate in school-wide initiatives (e.g., student government, regularly held student forums, school wide community service projects, etc.);
- Student leadership development;
- co-curricular after-school activities (e.g., student clubs, including sports related clubs, service organizations, team sports; etc.)
- Periodic recognition of students' achievements in a wide range of academic and co-curricular areas;

Such opportunities, coupled with a comprehensive program of prevention and intervention support services, provide students with the experiences, strategies, skills, and support they need to thrive.

PREVENTATIVE PRACTICES/INTERVENTION STRATEGIES

The ladder of supports and disciplinary consequences below illustrates a progressive response to inappropriate behavior. Student misbehavior must be handled on a case-by-case basis. In all cases, implementation of appropriate interventions and disciplinary responses must take into account a number of factors including the nature and severity of the misconduct. In many cases, the use of in school disciplinary response and/or the use of supports and interventions may be suitable. In other cases, a student's misconduct may require or be appropriately addressed by a targeted or significant disciplinary response along with supports and interventions. In all cases, it may be suitable for supports and interventions to take place outside of the classroom.

Intervention Response: Positive Relationships

Research shows that positive relationships help children learn. When our communities, schools and homes are free from fear, anger and other distractions, human development can occur. We know that students are more likely to succeed when they feel connected to others in their community, and are less likely to act out in ways that cause disruption to the school environment. (For more on this topic, see Bonnie Bernard's Fostering Resiliency in Kids or Robert Blum's "A Case for School Connectedness," Educational Leadership, April 2005)

Tips for Calming Conflict

Show students you understand. Listen well, with sincere concern, to create positive relationships among students and adults. Trust then becomes the foundation for academic success and conflict resolution.

Ask open-ended questions. Say, for example, "What was that like for you?" or "Tell me more about that." This gets more than a "Yes" or "No" response, and help students tell their story.

Use reflective listening when intervening in a conflict. Get the attention of an angry person by reflecting back the feelings you hear in a nonjudgmental way. Let students tell their story – say just enough to help them do it.

Help students problem-solve disputes. Use open-ended questions and reflective listening to help students think about what happened. Trust that, with guidance, students will identify a solution that works for them.

Skills and Strategies for Building Positive Relationships

- Communicating understanding
- Structuring tasks for student success
- Reinforcing student behavior in a positive manner
- Setting rules, limits and consequences
- Creating a safe and trusting environment
- Remaining neutral
- Using nonjudgmental language
- Responding only when a response is necessary
- Staying calm in tense situations
- Encouraging people to "vent" while being aware of safety
- Listening and repeating what students say (reflective listening)
- Identifying and labeling feelings, values and topics to be resolved (strategic listening)
- Asking open-ended questions
- Assisting people in using a positive problem-solving process

Suggested Practices for Establishing Positive Relationships

Morning Meetings. Classroom meetings in which the teacher and all students come together are usually for one of two purposes: to build community at a relatively peaceful time or to resolve a conflict. At the morning meeting, students sit in a circle and do activities together that help build caring within the group and between individuals. The meeting provides a place students come to understand the truest meaning of "finding common ground." They come to see, tolerate and appreciate the ways of one another, including their teachers. The most basic element of caring that aids this process is the genuine willingness to listen attentively.

Student Advisories. Students meet in small groups with an adult advisor to focus on character and civic development. Students discuss day-to-day issues, define their values, develop a trusting relationship with an adult advocate, hone communication skills and participate in social justice or service learning projects. Student Advisories offer emotional support for students during adolescence. Ideally, the advisory teacher is someone students know they can trust and talk to about their progress in school. The activity can provide peer recognition in an accepting environment, and offset peer pressure and negative responses from peers in other areas.

Student Ambassadors. The Student Ambassador goal is to engage students in activities that promote student connectedness and belonging to the school experience. Student Ambassadors serve as the youth voice for the student body. The students participate in team building activities and plan and conduct activities with their peers, in an effort to maintain a positive school climate and to motivate and engage the entire school community in addressing barriers to learning such as poor attendance.

Additional Intervention Strategies

To help students conduct themselves appropriately, the District lists prevention and intervention strategies that may be used prior to or in addition to any disciplinary response to student behavior. Examples of such strategies include the following:

Community Conferencing: Allows students, school personnel and others involved in a conflict to discuss the conflict and how it affected them and to propose solutions.

Conference: Involves students, parents/guardians, teachers, school personnel and principals in discussion about student misbehavior, the possible causes of the misbehavior and potential solutions that address social, academic and personal issues related to the behavior.

Conflict resolution: Empowers students to take responsibility for peacefully resolving conflicts. Students, parents/guardians, teachers, school personnel and principals engage in activities that promote problem solving skills and techniques, such as conflict and anger management, active listening and effective communication.

Functional Behavior Assessment (FBA): Involves gathering information about students' inappropriate or disruptive behavior and determining approaches that school personnel must take to correct or manage student behavior. This information is used to develop a Behavioral Intervention Plan for the student with disabilities.

Mentoring program: Involves pairing students with mentors (a school counselor, teacher, fellow student or community member) who help their personal, academic and social development.

Parent outreach: Requires school personnel to inform parents/guardians of their child's inappropriate or disruptive behavior. Outreach made in writing or by telephone is intended to make parents aware of the student's behavior, task completion and achievement, and can include a request for parents to accompany students to school.

Peer mediation: A form of conflict resolution in which students help other students deal with and develop solutions to conflict.

Referral to appropriate substance abuse counseling services: Occurs for behavior related to substance abuse, or with those for whom there is reason to believe substance abuse counseling is needed. Service can be school or community based. Such as counseling support specifically for vaping which can include a reduction in consequences for this infraction.

Referral to community-based organizations: Can involve a variety of services, including after-school programming, individual or group counseling, leadership development, conflict resolution and tutoring.

Preventative Practices/Intervention Strategies

Restorative justice strategies: Interventions designed to identify and address the harm caused by an incident, and to develop a plan to heal and correct the situation.

Student Support Team (SST): Consists of SST chair, school psychologists, school social worker and school counselor. The SST may work with the building principal, teachers, school nurses, mental health clinicians and external agency representatives to develop behavioral interventions and alternative strategies that will lead to student success. When student behavior requires intervention, parents, school personnel and the principal may request that the Student Support Team develop a plan to address the student's behavioral needs. If the behavior does not improve after implementation, timely review and revision of the plan and is significantly interfering with the student's learning and academic progress, it may be necessary to refer the student for a CSE evaluation.

Examples of Supports and Interventions

Guidance Conference: Principals and teachers may request a guidance conference with the student and, where appropriate, with the parent. The purpose of the conference is to review the behavior, find solutions to the problem and address academic, personal, and social issues that might have caused or contributed to the behavior.

Development of Individual Behavior Contract: The student meets with teachers to create a written contract that includes objectives and specific performance tasks that the student will accomplish to meet those objectives. The contract is signed by the student and teacher and, where appropriate, by the parent.

Intervention by Counseling Staff: Where available, school-based counseling personnel and/or school-based mental health programs offer a wide range of comprehensive and confidential mental health services and interventions including, but not limited to: assessments, individual, group and family counseling and/or therapy, teacher consultations, and educational strategies for parents and staff (with parental consent).

Referral to Student Support Team (SST): SSTs are school-based teams that use a multidisciplinary approach to encourage student success through prevention and intervention strategies and supports. A case manager is identified for each student referral and an individualized plan is created to help the student overcome his/her academic and/or other challenges.

Restorative Practices: Using restorative practices to foster positive interpersonal and intergroup relations and to address inappropriate behavior when it occurs is a cornerstone of a progressive approach to discipline. Restorative practices include collaborative negotiation, circle process, peer mediation, conflict resolution, and formal restorative conferencing.

Collaborative Problem Solving: When a student engages in challenging behavior, a trained school personnel member can use the collaborative problem-solving process to identify the specific issues that are precipitating the behavior, articulate the adult concerns about the behavior and engage the student in a collaborative process to address the underlying reasons for the behavior and decide upon a plan of action that is both realistic and mutually acceptable to both.

Individual/Group Counseling: Individual counseling provides students with an outlet to share issues in privacy that may be negatively impacting their attendance, behavior, and/or academic success. Small-group counseling can address needs such as stress management, anger management, developing effective conflict resolution and/or communication skills, etc. Students discuss and formulate goals, and learn problem-solving strategies that will enable them to overcome a variety of personal challenges with parental consent. Counselors will conference with parents on a regular basis to discuss the student's academic and personal progress.

Referral to Counseling Services for Bullying, Intimidation, or Harassment: When a student or group of students engages in bullying, including cyberbullying, intimidation, or bias-based harassment, of another student or group of students, both the target of the behavior and the student who engages in this behavior should be referred to separate appropriate counseling, support, and education services provided by school personnel or a community-based agency. Neither mediation nor conflict resolution is, under any circumstances, appropriate interventions for bullying, intimidation, or harassment.

Progressive Consequences

Consequences are most effective with students when they deal directly with the problem in a timely manner and in a way that students view as fair and impartial. School personnel who interact with students are expected to use disciplinary action only when warranted and to place emphasis on the students' ability to grow in self-discipline.

When choosing interventions and consequences for students' behavior, teachers, administrators, and staff must balance the District's goals of eliminating school disruptions and student/staff safety as well as maximizing student instructional time. Prior to disciplining students, the following factors shall be considered:

1. Age, health, and disability or special education status of the student
2. Appropriateness of student's academic placement
3. Student's prior conduct and record of behavior
4. Student's understanding of the impact of their behavior
5. Student's attitude in interactions regarding the behavior
6. Student's willingness to repair the harm caused by their behavior
7. Seriousness of the infraction and the degree of harm caused
8. Impact of the incident on overall school community
9. Whether the student's behavior threatened the safety of any student or staff member
10. The likelihood that a lesser intervention would adequately address the behavior

Where appropriate, discipline will be progressive. This means that a student's first incident will usually merit a consequence of a lesser degree than subsequent violations, taking into account all factors relevant to the severity of the current violation. However, in instances where a student's conduct is dangerous or threatens the safety of others, a more severe form of disciplinary action may be warranted, even if it is the student's first offense.

If the conduct of a student with a disability results in a long-term suspension or a series of short-term suspensions, consequences shall be administered consistent with the separate requirements of law and this Code of Conducts for disciplining students with a disability or presumed to have a disability.

In many cases, instead of disciplinary consequences, the response to a violation of the Code can be used as a "teachable moment." This is fundamental to a positive approach to discipline. Progressive consequences use incremental interventions to address inappropriate behavior with the ultimate goal of teaching pro-social behavior. Progressive consequences do not seek punishment but, rather, they seek concurrent accountability and behavioral change.

The ultimate goal is prevention of a recurrence of negative behavior by helping students learn from their mistakes. Essential to the implementation of progressive discipline is helping students who have engaged in unacceptable behavior to:

- understand why the behavior is unacceptable and the harm it has caused
- understand what they could have done differently in the same situation
- take responsibility for their action
- be given the opportunity to learn pro-social strategies and skills to use in the future
- understand the progression of more stringent consequences if the behavior reoccurs

Every reasonable effort should be made to correct student misbehavior through interventions and other school-based resources and the least severe disciplinary responses that are reasonably calculated to correct the behavior. Interventions are essential because inappropriate behavior or violations of the Code of Conduct may be symptomatic of more serious problems that students are experiencing. It is, therefore, important that school personnel be sensitive to issues that may influence the behavior of students and respond in a manner that is supportive of their needs.

Appropriate disciplinary responses should emphasize prevention and effective intervention, prevent disruption to students' education, and promote the development of a positive school culture.

Concurrent Support and Disciplinary Response to Misconduct

When a student engages in misconduct, support services are provided to address the student's inappropriate behavior and/or underlying needs in conjunction with disciplinary action. The goal is to foster social-emotional growth and pro-social behavior and prevent future misbehavior.

	Supports and Intervention Options	Disciplinary Response Options
	For students serving a long-term suspension, student support services are provided at an alternate instructional site. Contact between the site and the student's home school is established to ensure academic progress and a successful transition upon return.	Long-Term Suspension after Superintendent's Hearing • Permanent suspension/expulsion • One school year without review for early reinstatement • One school year with review at 90 and 135 days • 60-90 school days with review every 30 school days • 30-59 school days with review at 30 school days for suspensions of 39 or more school days • 11-29 school days • 6-10 school days • Immediate reinstatement
	Range of Supports and Intervention Options • Teacher conference/classroom observation • Peer mediation; conflict resolution • Restorative practices(e.g., circle or formal restorative conference) • Assignment of a mentor/coach • Guidance lessons in classrooms • Social-emotional learning • Individual behavioral contract or progress reports • Collaborative problem solving • Referral to Student Support Team (PPT)- when available • Parent Contact • Guidance conference • Individual and/or small group counseling • Referral to school nurse or school-based health clinic or external health care provider • Referral for academic support services • Referral to external mental health counseling provider or community based organization • Referral to counseling for bullying, intimidation or harassment • Referral to counseling for youth relationship abuse or sexual violence • Referral to substance abuse counseling • Referral to attendance teacher/coordinator • Functional Behavioral Assessment (FBA)/ Behavioral Intervention Plan (BIP) for students with special needs • School counselor and/or other support staff and/or administrator/student conference	Teacher Removal or Principal's Suspension • Removal from classroom by teacher • Principal's suspension (up to 5 school days)
		Range of In-School Disciplinary Response(s) • Formal restorative conference • Individual behavior contract • Short-term progress reports • Referral to Pupil Personnel Team (PPT) • Supervisor's conference with student • In-school disciplinary action (e.g., detention, in-school suspension) • Parent conference • Student/teacher conference • Administrator/parent and student conference • Administrator meeting with student to address wrongdoing and its consequences
	Initial Response(s) When a student experiences difficulty or engages in inappropriate behavior, the teacher contacts the parent and, depending on the nature and severity of the behavior and the age and maturity level of the student, takes one or more of the following steps: has a conference with the student; refers the student to a school counselor and/or to the PPT. One or more interventions and/or options for primary disciplinary consequences are used to address the student's behavior.
	Universal Prevention for All Students The school takes a whole school approach to promoting positive student behavior. Social-emotional learning is infused into the curriculum. Staff meets regularly to ensure that there is a comprehensive student support program in place that includes counseling services, guidance, opportunities for social-emotional learning, student engagement opportunities, and prevention and intervention behavioral supports to encourage and foster pro-social student behavior, foster resiliency, and build students' positive connection to the school community. The school has a system in place for early identification of students in need of prevention, intervention and/or support services.

Reporting Code Violations

To School Personnel

Students, building personnel and administration, all district administrative and personnel staff are encouraged to report any violation of the Code of Conduct to the Principal or, in his/her absence, the Acting Principal. Such individuals are required to report any threat of violence, including, but not limited to, bomb threats, threats to person or property, whether by oral, written, or electronic means, to the Principal or, in his/her absence, the Acting Principal. All building personnel, staff and District personnel shall immediately report violent acts to the Principal or the Superintendent of Schools.

To Local Law Enforcement Agencies(e.g., Police)

There are certain behaviors that will not be tolerated under any circumstances and will result in both serious consequences by school personnel and a report to the police. These behaviors include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Threatened acts of violence.
- Any acts of violence against persons that constitute a felony.
- Any other violation of this Code of Conduct that constitutes a felony.
- All other criminal offenses, e.g., theft, destruction of school property, false fire reports, arson, bomb threats; use, possession, distribution, or sale of drugs or alcohol; possession, use, distribution, or sale of a potentially dangerous or deadly object.
- Stealing or vandalism directed at the school or school personnel.

Parents/guardians will be timely notified of investigations and subsequent conclusions regarding the above named allegations.

In addition, assault on any person in authority in a school will result in criminal charges being filed by the victim with the support of the District to the fullest extent of the law.

Finally, extortion, stealing, or assault directed at another student will result in the victim and his/her parents being advised of their right to press criminal charges.

To Human Services Agencies

The District will report any violations of this Code of Conduct which constitute a crime, when the actor is under the age of 17, to the appropriate human services agencies. When necessary, the District may complete a referral with the District's Interagency Community Based Support Team, Single Point of Access (SPOA), Merikey, or other relevant community based supports.

Gun-Free Schools Act

Any student who comes onto school property (including a vehicle) or a school event whether on or off school property with a firearm, as defined under this act (see definition of "weapon" on page 3), will receive a minimum one-year suspension from school, subject to the discretion of the Superintendent of Schools to modify the penalty for a student if the Superintendent believes that the one year or longer suspension penalty is excessive. The Superintendent shall make the decision on a case-by-case basis, based upon criteria, including but not limited to:

1. The age of the student;
2. The student's grades in school;
3. The student's prior disciplinary record;
4. The Superintendent's belief that other forms of discipline may be more effective;
5. Other relevant information from the parent(s), guardian(s), teacher(s) and/or others;
6. Other extenuating circumstances.

Procedures

The School District has determined that certain acts of misconduct interfere with instruction and/or safety and welfare of students and staff. Although some incidents of misconduct may require removal from the classroom or suspension from school, effort will be made to deal with misconduct without removal from the classroom or suspension from school. However, no child will be allowed to continue disrupting the instruction of the class or interfering with the safety of the school, its staff, students and visitors. A wide range of behavior modification interventions and time honored management techniques should support students in all of the educational programs. Teacher removal of a disruptive student should only be done following application of these interventions. In most instances the classroom teacher can control a student's behavior and maintain or restore control over the classroom by using good classroom management techniques.

A. Removal of a Student from the Classroom

A teacher shall have the authority to remove a student from the classroom when the student is substantially disruptive of the educational process or substantially interferes with the teacher's authority over the classroom, consistent with Education Law §3214(3-a).

For purposes of this section, substantially disruptive of the educational process means conduct that interrupts or impairs the continuity of instruction beyond a momentary interruption and requires the teacher to discontinue or significantly alter instruction to address the student's conduct. Substantially interferes with the teacher's authority over the classroom means conduct that materially undermines the teacher's ability to maintain order and direct the educational process. Teachers are expected to use appropriate classroom-management strategies and provide students with an opportunity to comply with reasonable directives before removal when circumstances permit. However, a teacher is not required to provide multiple directives or additional wait time when the student's conduct presents an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or staff, presents a continuing danger to persons or property, or presents an ongoing threat of disruption to the academic process. A teacher who removes a student shall follow the notification, documentation, and due process requirements set forth below.

- Elementary Level Removals

A classroom teacher may remove a student for a minimum of one hour and up to the remainder of the school day for the first classroom removal. Subsequent removals may result in additional classroom removals consistent with the progressive discipline provisions of this Code. For a special-area class, including art, music, or physical education, a teacher may remove a student for the remainder of the class period for the first removal and for additional class periods for subsequent removals, consistent with this Code and applicable law. Upon repeated classroom removals, the matter shall be referred to the Principal or designee for disciplinary review and the implementation of interventions and consequences consistent with the District's Code of Conduct and applicable law.

- Secondary Level Removals

A teacher may remove a student for the remainder of the class period for a first classroom removal. Subsequent removals may result in additional classroom removals consistent with the progressive discipline provisions of this Code. Upon repeated classroom removals, the matter shall be referred to the Principal or designee for disciplinary review and the implementation of interventions and consequences consistent with the District's Code of Conduct and applicable law.

B. General Provisions for Elementary and Secondary Level Removals

Notwithstanding the foregoing, where the circumstances warrant suspension, the Principal or other authorized administrator may impose a suspension consistent with Education Law §3214 and the District's Code of Conduct in addition to, or in lieu of, a classroom removal.

Once a teacher determines that a student has engaged in conduct warranting removal:

- Notice to Student: The teacher shall inform the student of the reason for the removal. Where the student's continued presence presents a continuing danger to persons or property or an ongoing threat of disruption to the academic process, the teacher shall provide the student with an explanation of the basis for the removal and an informal opportunity to be heard within 24 hours of the removal, consistent with Education Law §3214(3-a).
- Administrative Notification: The teacher shall notify the Principal or designee immediately or as soon as practicable thereafter, but no later than the end of the school day, and shall document the removal using the District's designated referral or reporting system.
- Parent and Guardian Notification: The Principal or administrative designee must inform the student's parent of the removal and the reasons therefor within 24 hours of the student's removal; consistent with Education Law §3214(3-a)
- Informal Conference: Upon request, the student and his/her parent must be given an opportunity for an informal conference with the Principal or administrative designee to discuss the reasons for removal. If the student denies the charge(s), the Principal or administrative designee must provide an explanation of the basis for the removal and allow the student and/or his/her parent an opportunity to present the student's version of the relevant events within 48 hours of the student's removal; consistent with Education Law §3214(3-a).

- Principal's Determination: The Principal or designee shall not set aside the teacher's removal unless the Principal/designee determines that the charges are not supported by substantial evidence, that the removal otherwise violates law, or that the conduct warrants suspension and a suspension will be imposed. The Principal's determination shall be made within the timeframe established by Education Law §3214(3-a).
- Progressive Discipline and Intervention: Classroom removals shall be implemented as part of a progressive discipline framework that combines appropriate consequences with interventions, supports, positive reinforcement, and problem-solving strategies designed to reduce repeated removals and maintain students in the learning environment whenever appropriate.
- Repeated Removals: In accordance with 8 NYCRR §100.2, repeated classroom removals shall result in disciplinary review consistent with the minimum suspension provisions contained in this Code of Conduct. For purposes of this provision, repeated classroom removals shall mean four or more removals during a semester or three or more removals during a trimester, as applicable.
- Students with Disabilities: For a student with a disability or a student presumed to have a disability for disciplinary purposes, all removals and disciplinary actions shall be implemented consistent with Education Law §3214, 8 NYCRR Part 201, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), and the student's IEP. The District shall consider the student's IEP, BIP, if applicable, and relevant behavioral information when determining appropriate interventions and supports. Where required by law, the District shall conduct a manifestation determination review and/or functional behavioral assessment and shall review or modify the BIP as required.
- Appeal: Any appeal by a parent/person in parental relation or a student age 18 or older regarding a Principal's classroom-removal determination shall be submitted to the Superintendent of Schools or designee within 10 calendar days, consistent with the District's established appeal procedures. Nothing in this provision shall limit any right of appeal or other remedy provided by law.

C. Suspension Process

The students in the Newburgh Enlarged City School District have certain rights given to them by the New York State Constitution, Education Law, the Policies of the Board of Education, and this Code of Conduct. However, a student's rights may be limited or he/she may be suspended, including permanent suspension, if he/she breaks the rules of this Code of Conduct.

Suspensions will be used to the minimum degree necessary to promote improved student behavior and maximize student attendance. Students who participate in restorative practices ending in a restorative conference and written agreement may be permitted to return to school sooner than those who do not. Early return is entirely at the discretion of the district except for suspensions resulting from four or more removals in a semester or three or more in a trimester.

A student may be suspended by the Board of Education, the Superintendent of Schools, or the Principal. When the Principal is not at the school, the Acting Principal may suspend a student.

1. Article 3(a) of Section 3214 of the Education Law states that a student may be suspended from attending school when that student is insubordinate or disorderly, or exhibits conduct which endangers the safety, morals, health, or welfare of others.
2. Section 100.2(l)(2)(ii)(m) of the Commissioner's Regulations states that a student must be suspended from attending school when that student is removed from a classroom for substantially disrupting the educational process or substantially interfering with the teacher's authority in the classroom four or more times in one semester.
3. The student may also be suspended for breaking any of the disciplinary rules in this Code of Conduct.

1. Pre-Suspension Process

Before a student can be suspended, the Principal or designee must talk to the student and explain why he/she is being suspended. The student will be given the chance to explain his/her side of the story. The student also has the right to have anyone else who can support his/her story talk to the person investigating the facts. If the student's presence in school poses a continuing danger to other people or property or an ongoing threat of disruption to the academic process, this meeting will occur as soon as possible following the suspension.

2. The Short-Term Suspension Process

A short-term suspension will last from 1 to 5 school days, and can only be imposed by the Principal, or the Acting Principal when the Principal is not in the school.

Prior to and within 24 hours of the decision to propose a short-term suspension, the student and his/her parent will receive a letter describing what happened to cause the suspension. The letter will also tell the parent that they can ask for an informal conference with the Principal as soon as possible, at which meeting all the evidence relied on, including witnesses, may be questioned by the parent. Where these witnesses are students, parental consent for a student to serve as a witness must be obtained. The right to an informal conference also applies to any student who is 18 years old or older. Whenever possible, the parent will also receive a phone call explaining the suspension.

The conference will be held in the main language that the parent uses. If the parent communicates through signs or other means, the meeting will also be conducted through those means.

If the student's presence in school poses a continuing danger to other people or property or presents an ongoing threat of disruption to the academic process, the notice and opportunity for the informal conference shall take place as soon after the suspension as is reasonably possible. In addition to the short-term suspension, the student may be referred for the long-term suspension process described in section 3, below.

Any appeal brought by the parent of or a student over the age of 18 of a short-term suspension must be presented to the Superintendent of Schools within 10 calendar days prior to filing any further appeal.

3. The Long-Term Suspension Process

Any suspension for more than 5 days is considered a long-term suspension. Unless there is a written agreement between the person requesting the suspension and the parent, a long-term suspension may be imposed only after the Superintendent of Schools or the Board of Education, or the Superintendent or Board's designee, has conducted a hearing. The Superintendent of Schools or the Board of Education may appoint a Hearing Officer to determine the facts with respect to the charges. He/she may also recommend the penalty that the student should receive from the penalties described in this Code of Conduct.

4. Welcome Back Conference

A welcome back conference with the Principal or Designee, the parent, and the student, is strongly suggested after a short-term or long-term suspension, prior to the student's return to school. While parents are strongly encouraged to attend a re-entry conference, the student will be required to participate prior to returning back to school to ensure a plan for successful transition back to school is in place.

5. Hearing Procedures

The following procedures apply to the long-term suspension process:

Notice of Hearing

If the student being suspended is younger than 18 years old, the notice of suspension will be mailed or delivered to his/her parent. The notice will tell the parent of the date, time, and place of the hearing, at least 48 hours before the hearing is scheduled. The letter will tell them of the facts of the charge offense (charge[s]), so that they may prepare a proper argument for the student.

If the student is 18 years old or older, the letter described above and any other notices will be mailed to the student as well as his/her parent. Emancipated minors will also have this same right to be notified.

All notices of long-term suspension will tell the student or his/her parents that they have the following rights:

1. To have an attorney or other counsel present.
2. To receive an exact copy of the hearing (either a tape recording or a printed copy).

3. To present witnesses to support his/her defense.

The Long-Term Suspension Hearing

If the suspension was imposed by the Principal, Acting Principal, or the Superintendent of Schools, the hearing will be conducted by either the Superintendent of Schools or a Hearing Officer. If the suspension was ordered by the Board of Education, the hearing will be conducted by either the Board of Education or a Hearing Officer.

At the beginning of the hearing, the student and his/her representative(s) will be told the following:

1. The District and the student or his/her representative will have the right to examine the evidence and question witnesses.
2. The student does not have to incriminate himself/herself, but if he/she testifies, he/she may be cross-examined.
3. The District must prove the charges using the evidence against the student.
4. A record of the hearing will be kept and the student's representatives can ask for a copy of it.
5. The student's representative can ask that the hearing be either private or open to the public.

The Hearing Officer will inform everyone involved of the following procedures:

1. The District will start by presenting witnesses against the student.
2. The student or representative may ask questions of (cross-examine) the witnesses.
3. The student will then be able to present witnesses to support his/her story. The District can then question the student's witnesses.

After the witnesses are heard, both the District and the student will be able to tell the Hearing Officer why the charges should be dropped or upheld. The Hearing Officer will decide which facts are true.

If one or more of the charges against the student are upheld, the Hearing Officer will ask both parties what they think the appropriate consequences should be. Both parties will be provided with an opportunity to put forth their recommendation for consequences. If the student's past discipline record has been presented to the parents and student (if he/she is 18 years old or older or an emancipated minor) at least 48 hours before the hearing, the Hearing Officer can use this record to help decide on a penalty. If any of the incidents in the record are denied by the student, the District will need to prove them as well.

When the penalty phase of the hearing ends, the Hearing Officer will explain the facts as he/she sees them, along with the penalty recommendation, to the appointing authority. Should be given at the hearing or within 24 hours.

The Superintendent of Schools or Board of Education, depending on who selected the Hearing Officer, will explain what it determines to be the facts and determine the consequences after reviewing the Hearing Officer's recommendations. If no Hearing Officer is appointed, the Superintendent of Schools or Board of Education, depending upon who ordered the suspension, shall make the decision regarding the facts and consequences. The student and his/her representative will then be notified of the decision.

The hearing process, including the findings of fact and penalty determination, will be concluded within the five school-day period from the student's suspension; however, if the representative of the student requests a delay, the student may be required to remain out of school until the hearing process is completed.

6. Alternative Instruction During Suspension

New York State Education Law requires that a student of compulsory school age who is suspended from school be provided with alternative instruction for the duration of the suspension. Pursuant to Education Law § 3214(3)(e), the District shall take immediate steps to arrange for the student's attendance upon instruction elsewhere during the period of suspension. Alternative instruction shall be provided promptly and shall not be delayed as a consequence of the suspension. Alternative instruction shall be substantially equivalent to the instruction the student would have received in the student's regular educational program. The appropriateness and equivalency of the alternative instructional program shall be determined based on the individual student's circumstances and educational needs. The alternative program shall provide meaningful access to instruction and shall be designed to enable the student to continue to participate in the general curriculum and make appropriate academic progress during the period of suspension.

The District shall provide alternative instruction for a minimum of:

- Elementary students (Grades K–6): two (2) hours of instruction per day; and
- Secondary students (Grades 7–12): three (3) hours of instruction per day.

These minimum instructional hours represent the minimum amount of alternative instruction to be provided and do not limit the District’s obligation to provide additional instruction or supports when necessary to ensure that the instruction is substantially equivalent to the student’s regular educational program.

Alternative instruction may be provided through tutoring or another educational setting or instructional arrangement designated by the District, consistent with applicable law and District procedures. The location and method of delivery shall be determined by the District based on the student’s educational needs, the nature and circumstances of the suspension, and the requirements of applicable law.

For students with disabilities, the District shall provide services and supports in accordance with Education Law § 3214, Part 201 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and the student’s IEP or 504 Accommodation Plan, as applicable.

Alternative instruction shall not consist solely of independent work, worksheets, or study hall. The instruction must constitute meaningful educational programming and be sufficiently aligned to the student’s regular program to permit continued academic progress. NYSED has specifically recognized that alternative instruction must be equivalent instruction and may not consist merely of study halls.

7. Appeals Process

Any decision of the Superintendent of Schools with respect to a student’s long-term suspension can be appealed to the Board of Education within 30 calendar days of the Superintendent’s determination. The Board will review the record of the hearing, including all the testimony and evidence, and any written statement submitted in support of the appeal. Neither side may be present at the appeals process, nor may either side present any new information or arguments to the Board during the appeal.

The Board may review findings of fact, uphold the penalty, reduce the penalty or condition a suspended student’s early return to school or suspension revocation upon: (1) a student’s voluntary participation in counseling or (2) voluntary participation in special classes, such as those addressing anger management or dispute resolution.

If the Board of Education or its own designated Hearing Officer conducted the original hearing, or if the student or his/her representative disagrees with the Board’s decision, then the student or his/her parents may make an appeal either to the Commissioner of Education or in Court.

D. Discipline of Students with Disabilities

A principal may suspend a student with an educational disability for a short-term (5 school days or less) in the same manner as non disabled students may be suspended. A principal’s designation of an Interim Alternative Educational Setting (IAES) must be made in consultation with the student’s special education teacher.

In the event that a student has a known disability or when school officials can be deemed to know, in accordance with law, that a student has a disability or meets the “suspected of having a disability” standard, the District will first proceed to conduct a §3214 long term disciplinary proceeding for any suspension of more than 5 days. The §3214 disciplinary proceeding will be held in two parts, first to determine the student’s guilt or innocence on the charges and the second to determine the penalty.

If guilt is determined on a violation of a provision of the District’s Code of Conduct, before a penalty may be imposed, the following rules shall apply:

Section 504/ADA Disability

For a student solely with a disability under §504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (“Section 504”)/Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (“ADA”), the Section 504 multi-disciplinary committee must make a determination regarding whether the conduct underlying the charges was a manifestation of the student’s disability.

1. If a nexus is found between the disability and the conduct, no additional discipline shall be imposed and the record of discipline imposed to date shall be expunged.
2. If no nexus is found, yet a disability is indicated, or has been identified, discipline may be imposed upon remand to the §3214 hearing officer. A change in placement; i.e. a suspension, removal or transfer, in excess of 10 school days must be preceded by notice and an evaluation conducted by the Section 504 team.
3. Students with a recognized Section 504/ADA disability who are known to be currently engaged in the illegal use of drugs or alcohol, who are found to be using or in possession of alcohol or drugs may be disciplined, regardless of their disability status, in the same manner and to the same extent as non-disabled students.

IDEA Disability

A student shall be presumed to have a disability if prior to the time the behavior occurred:

1. The child’s parent has expressed in writing to supervisory or administrative personnel of the appropriate educational agency or to a teacher of the student that the student is in need of special education, provided that such notification may be oral if the parent does not know how to write or has a disability that prevents a written statement; or
2. The parent of the student has requested an evaluation of the student; or
3. A teacher of the student or other personnel of the District has expressed specific concern about a pattern of behavior demonstrated by the student to supervisory personnel in the District in accordance with the District’s child-find procedures.

A student shall not be presumed to have a disability for discipline purposes, despite satisfaction of one or more of the above criteria, if:

1. The parent of the student has not allowed a relevant evaluation of the student by the Committee on Special Education (“CSE”);
2. The parent of the student has refused special education services; or
3. It was determined by the CSE or Committee on Preschool Special Education (“CPSE”) that the Student is not a student with a disability; or
4. It was determined that an evaluation was not necessary and the District provided appropriate notice to the parents of such determination.

Students with Disabilities and Manifestation Determination

For a student with a disability who is subject to disciplinary action, the District shall comply with the requirements of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Education Law § 3214, and Part 201 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education.

A Manifestation Determination Review (MDR) must be conducted when a disciplinary removal constitutes, or is determined to constitute, a disciplinary change in placement. A disciplinary change in placement occurs when:

- the student is removed from their current educational placement for more than 10 consecutive school days; or
- the student is subjected to a series of suspensions or removals of 10 consecutive school days or fewer that, when considered together, constitute a pattern of removals and therefore result in a disciplinary change in placement.

The MDR shall be conducted immediately, if possible, but no later than 10 school days after the decision to change the student's placement due to a violation of the Code of Conduct. The manifestation team shall review relevant information from the student's educational records, including the student's IEP, teacher observations, and relevant information provided by the parent/guardian.

The manifestation team shall determine whether:

- the conduct in question was caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to, the student's disability; or
- the conduct in question was the direct result of the District's failure to implement the student's IEP.

If either condition is met, the conduct shall be determined to be a manifestation of the student's disability. The District shall then take the actions required by applicable law and regulation, including addressing any deficiencies in the implementation of the student's IEP and, as appropriate, conducting or reviewing a functional behavioral assessment and implementing or modifying a behavioral intervention plan.

Pattern of Suspensions or Removals

A series of suspensions or removals of 10 consecutive school days or fewer may constitute a disciplinary change in placement when the removals constitute a pattern. In determining whether a pattern exists, the Building Principal in collaboration with the Assistant Superintendent for Exceptional Learners shall consider, on a case-by-case basis, whether the series of removals:

- cumulatively exceeds 10 school days in the school year;
- involves behavior that is substantially similar to the behavior that resulted in previous removals; and
- involves additional factors, including the length of each suspension or removal, the total amount of time the student has been removed, and the proximity of the suspensions or removals to one another.

Services During Suspensions and Removals for Students with Disabilities

During any period of suspension or disciplinary removal, a student with a disability shall be provided services to the extent required by Education Law § 3214(3)(e), the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), and Part 201 of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education. Nothing in this section shall be construed to provide a greater right to services than is required by applicable federal and New York State law and regulation.

A. Suspensions or Removals of Up to 10 School Days

During a suspension or disciplinary removal for a period of up to 10 school days in a school year that does not constitute a disciplinary change in placement, a student with a disability of compulsory attendance age shall receive alternative instruction pursuant to Education Law § 3214(3)(e), on the same basis as students without disabilities who are similarly suspended.

Students with disabilities who are not of compulsory attendance age shall receive services during such suspensions only to the extent that services are provided to students without disabilities of the same age who have been similarly suspended.

B. Subsequent Suspensions or Removals Exceeding 10 Cumulative School Days Without a Disciplinary Change in Placement

When a student with a disability is subjected to subsequent suspensions or disciplinary removals of 10 consecutive school days or fewer that, in the aggregate, total more than 10 school days in a school year, but the removals do not constitute a disciplinary change in placement, the District shall provide services necessary to:

- enable the student to continue to participate in the general education curriculum, although in another setting;
- enable the student to continue to progress toward meeting the goals set forth in the student's IEP; and
- provide, as appropriate, a functional behavioral assessment (FBA), behavioral intervention services, and modifications designed to address the behavior violation so that the behavior does not recur.

School personnel, in consultation with at least one of the student's teachers, shall determine the extent to which services are necessary to enable the student to continue participating in the general education curriculum and progressing toward the goals in the student's IEP.

C. Suspensions or Removals Constituting a Disciplinary Change in Placement

When disciplinary suspensions or removals exceed 10 school days in a school year and constitute a disciplinary change in placement, the student with a disability shall receive services necessary to:

- enable the student to continue to participate in the general education curriculum, although in another setting;
- enable the student to progress toward meeting the goals set forth in the student's IEP; and
- receive, as appropriate, a functional behavioral assessment, behavioral intervention services, and modifications designed to address the behavior violation so that the behavior does not recur.

The Committee on Special Education (CSE) shall determine the appropriate interim alternative educational setting (IAES) and the services to be provided to the student. These services shall be provided regardless of whether the behavior has been determined to be a manifestation of the student's disability, consistent with applicable law and regulation.

D. Special Circumstances: Weapons, Illegal Drugs, Controlled Substances, or Serious Bodily Injury

Notwithstanding the requirements applicable to other disciplinary removals, a student with a disability may be placed in an interim alternative educational setting (IAES) for up to 45 school days, as authorized by law, when the student:

1. inflicts serious bodily injury upon another person while at school, on school premises, or at a school function under the jurisdiction of the District;
2. carries or possesses a weapon to or at school, on school premises, or at a school function under the jurisdiction of the District; or
3. knowingly possesses or uses illegal drugs, or sells or solicits the sale of a controlled substance, while at school, on school premises, or at a school function under the jurisdiction of the District.

The period of suspension or removal ordered by the Superintendent shall not exceed the amount of time that a student without a disability would be suspended for the same behavior. The IAES and services to be provided shall be determined by the CSE.

The District shall provide services during such a placement consistent with applicable federal and New York State requirements. A manifestation determination does not preclude an authorized IAES placement for the special circumstances identified above.

E. Relationship to Manifestation Determination

When a disciplinary removal constitutes a disciplinary change in placement, the District shall conduct a manifestation determination review in accordance with applicable federal law and 8 NYCRR § 201.4. The manifestation determination process does not eliminate the District's obligation to provide the services required during the disciplinary removal.

The District shall ensure that disciplinary removals, services, alternative instruction, manifestation determinations, interim alternative educational settings, and behavioral supports are implemented in accordance with the student's IEP and all applicable federal and New York State laws and regulations.

Discipline of Students with Disabilities when the Manifestation Team has made a “No Manifestation Finding”

Where a student with a disability's conduct is found not to be a manifestation of his/her disability he/she may be disciplined in the same manner and to the same extent as non-disabled students. In such instances, the CSE shall meet upon proper notice to determine any appropriate evaluations which must be performed, changes to a student's IEP and to recommend an appropriate IAES where the child can continue to receive educational services, although in another setting, that enable the child to participate in the general education curriculum and progress toward meeting IEP goals and objectives during the period of suspension from instruction. Where a suspension or disciplinary change in placement will exceed 10 school days, the CSE shall conduct a functional behavioral assessment and implement or modify a behavior intervention plan, as well as implement modifications intended to avoid a recurrence of the behavior.

Pendency Placement

An IAES shall be deemed the student's “stay put” placement for up to 45 school days, during the pendency of any expedited due process proceedings commenced by parents to contest 1) a finding that a student is not “presumed to have a disability”, and/or 2) a finding that the student's misconduct was not a manifestation of the student's disability, and/or 3) a decision to place a student in a CSE recommended IAES for misconduct involving weapons and/or drugs and/or serious bodily injury, and/or 4) the decision of an impartial hearing officer in a dangerousness hearing, and/or 5) the appropriateness of an IAES program in a dangerousness hearing, and/or 5) the appropriateness of an IAES program recommended by the CSE in the context of one of the four categories of action listed above.

Declassified Students

In accordance with law, the CSE must conduct a manifestation determination in the case of a student with an educational disability who has been declassified if the disciplinary matter involves behavioral problems.

Searches of Students and Student Property

Students are expected to cooperate with lawful investigations conducted by authorized school officials. A student's refusal to consent to a search does not, by itself, prevent an authorized school official from conducting a search that is otherwise permitted by law and District policy.

School officials may conduct a search of a student or the student's personal property when there are reasonable grounds to suspect that the search will reveal evidence that the student has violated or is violating the law, this Code of Conduct, or District policy. The search must be justified at its inception and reasonably related in scope to the circumstances that justified the search. The scope and manner of the search shall not be excessively intrusive in light of the student's age, sex, the nature of the suspected violation, the seriousness of the suspected conduct, and the circumstances giving rise to the search.

The principal, assistant principal, or other school official authorized by the Superintendent or District policy may conduct a lawful search of a student or the student's personal property on school premises, at school-sponsored activities, or in other locations where reasonable suspicion exists and the District exercises supervisory authority over students.

School officials may also inspect or search District-owned property, including lockers, desks, storage areas, and District-issued technology, consistent with applicable law and District policy. Students should have no expectation of privacy in District property to the extent permitted by law and District policy. However, a student's personal property located within or on District property shall be treated in accordance with the applicable legal standard governing searches of students and their personal belongings.

Searches shall be conducted in a manner that is reasonably designed to locate the item or evidence for which the search was initiated. School officials shall use the least intrusive reasonable means necessary under the circumstances and shall avoid unnecessary embarrassment, humiliation, or exposure of the student.

Searches Involving Highly Intrusive Measures

Highly intrusive searches, including any search requiring a student to remove clothing beyond what is reasonably necessary for ordinary administrative or safety purposes, shall be undertaken only in extraordinary circumstances and consistent with applicable law and District policy.

Before conducting such a search, the school administrator shall consult with the Superintendent or the Superintendent's designee and District counsel whenever practicable. The administrator shall consider the nature and seriousness of the suspected violation, the reliability and specificity of the information giving rise to the suspicion, the student's age and other relevant circumstances, whether the suspected item presents an immediate safety risk, and whether less intrusive alternatives are reasonably available.

Any highly intrusive search must be supported by specific and articulable facts establishing reasonable suspicion that the student is concealing evidence or contraband in a location that reasonably requires the proposed level of intrusion to discover. The search must be conducted in a manner consistent with applicable law, with appropriate regard for the student's privacy, dignity, and safety.

To the extent practicable and consistent with student safety, a highly intrusive search shall be conducted by an authorized adult of the same sex as the student and in the presence of another authorized adult, in a private setting and away from other students.

F. Off-Campus Misconduct

A student may be subject to discipline for conduct constituting a crime which is committed off of school premises or at non-school sponsored activities, to the extent that the Superintendent of Schools and/or Board of Education believes that the continued attendance in school of the student would adversely affect the educational process (e.g., disrupt the operation of the school) or constitute an endangerment to the health, safety, welfare, or morals of the student and/or others in our schools.

A student may be subject to discipline for off-campus misconduct that does not involve criminality that the Superintendent of Schools or Board of Education reasonably believes has a nexus to the educational process (i.e. student-student, student-personnel interactions that foreseeably would have a detrimental or disruptive effect upon school programs or activities).

(See also Computer and Internet Use at H. below).

G. Dress and Grooming

Students are expected to dress and groom themselves in an appropriate manner. Students must be dressed in appropriate clothing and protective equipment as required for physical education classes, participation in athletics, science laboratories, and home and careers skills classes.

The following are considered to be inappropriate dress, grooming, and appearance and are prohibited in school or at school functions:

1. Any dress or appearance which constitutes a threat or danger to the health and safety of students (e.g., heavy jewelry or jewelry with spikes which can injure the student or others, heely sneakers);
2. Any dress or appearance which is vulgar, lewd, obscene, or indecent or profane, or which exposes to sight the private parts of the body;
3. T-shirts with a inappropriate symbols and messages consisting of sexual metaphors;(see-through garments, extremely plunging necklines or waistlines);
4. Any dress or appearance which encourages or advocates the use of illegal drugs, alcohol and/or tobacco; 5. Any dress or appearance which advocates or encourages other illegal or violent activities;
5. Any dress or appearance which advocates harassment or discrimination or denigrates others based upon actual or perceived race, color, creed, weight, religion, religious practice, national origin, ethnic group, gender, sexual orientation, or disability;
6. The wearing of hats, headbands, or other head coverings or headdress is permitted, except when prohibited for a specific health, safety, instructional, or other legitimate school-related reason. This provision does not apply to head coverings worn for religious, cultural, medical, or other legally protected reasons.
7. Clothing, attire, accessories, or appearance that materially and substantially disrupts the educational process, creates a safety concern, or interferes with the rights of others is prohibited. Any restriction shall be applied in a manner that is nondiscriminatory and consistent with applicable law and District policy.

A dress code for employees is a mandatory subject of collective bargaining and, as such, may not be imposed upon employees who are members of unions without negotiations. Nevertheless, employees are responsible to ensure that their dress is safe and appropriate, and does not disrupt or interfere with the educational process.

H. Computer and Internet Use

The District's computer and Internet systems are provided primarily for educational and school-related purposes. Students are expected to use District technology and Internet access responsibly, appropriately, and in accordance with District policy.

Use of Personal Internet-Enabled Devices During the School Day

The use of personal internet-enabled devices during the school day is governed by Offense 43, Unauthorized Use of Internet-Enabled Devices During the School Day, and applicable District policy.

For purposes of this Code, the school day encompasses both instructional and non-instructional periods, including class periods, homeroom/advisory, passing times, lunch, recess, study hall, assemblies, and other portions of the school day when students are under the supervision or authority of the school.

Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to permit unauthorized use of personal internet-enabled devices during the school day. Authorized uses and legally protected exceptions shall be addressed in accordance with District policy and applicable law.

The following prohibited uses of District technology, including but not limited to computers, computer drives, network facilities, the Internet, and Internet links, may give rise to disciplinary action consistent with this Code of Conduct and applicable:

1. 1. E-mail or other electronic or digital or mobile communications created by a student or another individual at a student's request, which originates from the school premises or which is received at the school premises which:
 - a. is lewd, vulgar, obscene, indecent, or inappropriate for student recipients of certain ages;
 - b. conveys a threat of violence, including sexual violence, to a specific individual or individuals or to the District;
 - c. constitutes a State and/or Federal crime;

- d. is the cause of or a substantial contributing factor to a substantial interference with the orderly functioning of the school(s);
 - e. attributes the text of the e-mail, digital communication, text messages, etc., to school officials or implies that the text is school-endorsed, unless there is such an official endorsement or consent from school officials.
2. Technology and Internet use that circumvents access restrictions placed upon the District's computer systems by the Board of Education or its administrative designee(s).
 3. Technology and/or Internet use that is not school-related or is unauthorized.
 4. Permitting the use of a student's computer log-in credential by any other person (such student shall assume responsibility for occurrences in violation of this Code of Conduct that occur under the student's log-in credential).
 5. E-mails or electronic, digital, or mobile communications created by a student or another individual at a student's request, which originate from an off-campus computer or other electronic/digital device or site and which are received at the school premises or by one or more District students, parents, or staff members at their homes or other off-campus sites, which convey threats of violence, including sexual violence, or other sexually charged electronic communication to a specific individual or individuals or to the District, may give rise to disciplinary action against such student.

I. Suspension from Transportation Service

The Board of Education provides transportation for students in accordance with law and expects that student behavior on school buses shall be consistent with the behavior expected within the schools. Transportation is a privilege and the failure of students to behave appropriately on the school bus constitutes grounds for suspension of that privilege.

Students may be suspended from transportation service for an infraction or infractions listed herein upon the conducting of an informal meeting by the Superintendent of Schools or his/her administrative designee, at which time the student's parent/guardian or other representative shall be allowed to question the witnesses relied upon by the District in determining the appropriateness of such suspension of service. If such an informal meeting is conducted before the Superintendent's administrative designee, the designee shall make a recommendation to the Superintendent as to the action to be taken.

The following guidelines serve as a reference for determining consequences administered by the building level administrator based on levels and frequency of infractions. These consequences might include assignment of a bus seat near the bus driver and suspension of bus privileges, in addition to other consequences listed in this Code of Conduct. The safety of all students is the primary concern of the District. All students have an individual responsibility to help ensure a safe environment on the bus.

Expectations of Students

The following general rules are applicable to all students being transported to and/or from school, extracurricular events, and field trips.

1. Students will follow instructions of the bus driver.
2. Students will look both ways before crossing and wait for the driver's universal hand signal before crossing in front of the bus.
3. Students will behave in a safe and orderly manner boarding and departing the bus and while on the bus.
4. Students will remain in their seats while the bus is in motion.

Repeated instances of misconduct may lead to the imposition of the next level of consequence. Chronic repeating of incidents of misconduct will result in the suspension of transportation privileges.

Where suspending a student from District transportation amounts to a suspension from school, arrangements will be made for alternative education.

J. Suspension from Extra-curricular and Co-curricular Activities and School Functions

A student may be suspended by an administrator or their coach from participating in extra-curricular or co-curricular activities (including sports) for an infraction of any of the provisions of this Code of Conduct, for violating a code of conduct issued to participants in the activity by the activity supervisor, for poor attendance in school, for academic deficiencies, or for fighting at games/activities. (See Comprehensive Attendance Policy attached as Appendix A at page 46 and Board Policy 5441, Appendix B, at page 51).

Additional rules and regulations for athletes can be found in the Student Athletic Handbook, each Coach's Rules and Regulations related to the specific sport and each advisor's Rules and Regulations related to the specific activity. These are contained in the seasonal sports folders pertaining to that particular sport and team or in information provided to students at the start of an extra curricular or co-curricular activity.

Upon the request of the student's parent, the Principal shall allow the parent or other representative of the student the right to appear before him/her, informally, to discuss the conduct which led to suspension from the activity.

If a student is suspended from school pursuant to §3214 of the Education Law, s/he shall not be permitted to participate in any extra curricular or co-curricular activities (including sports practices and/or games), nor in any other school events or activities which take place on the days of suspension (including intervening weekends). In addition, the student will not be allowed on school or district grounds or at any school- or district-sponsored activities or functions for the duration of the suspension. If there is a disciplinary action pending against a student, this might have an impact on the student's participation in graduation ceremonies and other school sponsored activities including, but not limited to, senior trip and prom.

RESTORATIVE PRACTICES

All members of a school community bring with them diverse abilities, interests, viewpoints, and family and cultural backgrounds. These differences can be a source of great energy and strength when members of the community value and respect one another. Using restorative practices to foster positive interpersonal and intergroup relations and to address inappropriate behavior when it occurs is a cornerstone of a progressive approach to discipline.

Restorative Practices are a response to student actions that violate the dignity, safety, or well-being of others by connecting the person responsible for the harm with those who have been harmed in order to reach a resolution that guides, and assists the person responsible for the harm in accepting responsibility, apologizing for the harm, making meaning reparation and improving the relationship between parties.

A restorative approach to discipline changes the fundamental questions that are asked when a behavioral incident occurs. Instead of asking who is to blame and how those engaged in the misbehavior will be punished, a restorative approach asks four key questions:

- What happened?
- Who was harmed or affected by the behavior?
- What needs to be done to make things right?
- How can people behave differently in the future?

TYPES OF RESTORATIVE PRACTICES

Circle Process: Regular use of restorative circles within the instructional program of a school is a significant prevention and intervention strategy. The circle process enables a group to build relationships and establish understanding and trust, create a sense of community, learn how to make decisions together, develop agreements for the mutual good, resolve difficult issues, and address other issues as they arise.

Students are the largest group of stakeholders in a school community and its greatest natural resource in creating and sustaining a safe and supportive school environment. Building community among students and between students and staff members is integral to creating a supportive and inclusive school culture. When students feel accepted, valued, respected, and included, they build a positive connection to school and foster resiliency. Community building circles focus on:

- Relationships. The way in which two or more people regard and behave toward each other.
- Responsibility. An obligation to behave in accordance with social norms and being held accountable for one's actions.
- Safety and Trust. Community members need a sense of safety and trust to connect with one another.
- Honor. Members interact with fairness and integrity and acknowledge their personal responsibility for their actions.
- Openness. Community members feel free to share their thoughts and feelings.

- Respect. To bond as a community, members must feel they are valued and respected as individuals, and they must respond respectfully to one another
- Empowerment. A sense of empowerment is a crucial element and a desired outcome of being a member of a community. Community support enables members to gain a new view of themselves and a new sense of confidence in their abilities. When used as an intervention measure to address inappropriate student behavior, restorative circles empower community members to take responsibility for the well-being of others; prevent or deal with conflict before it escalates; address underlying factors that lead youth to engage in inappropriate behavior and build resiliency; increase the pro-social skills of participants, particularly those who have harmed others; and provide wrongdoers with the opportunity to be accountable to those they have harmed and enable them to repair the harm to the extent possible. A circle can also be used in response to a particular issue that affects the school community.
- Collaborative Negotiation: Using the collaborative negotiation process enables an individual to talk through an issue with whom he/she disagrees to arrive at a mutually satisfactory resolution. Training in collaborative negotiation includes learning active listening and other conflict resolution communication skills.
- Peer Mediation: An impartial, third party mediator (in a school, a student who has been trained to serve as a peer mediator) facilitates the negotiation process between conflicting parties so they can come to a mutually satisfactory resolution. Mediation recognizes that there is validity to conflicting points of view that disputants bring to the table and helps disputants work out a solution that meets both sets of needs. Disputants must choose to use mediation and must come to the process willingly. Mediation is not used where one individual has been victimized (for example, in cases of harassment or bullying) by another.
- Formal Restorative Conference: A conference is facilitated by an individual who has received specific training in bringing together individuals who have acknowledged causing harm with those who have been harmed. Regardless of the circumstances, the mental and physical health, safety, and welfare of the individual who was harmed are of paramount importance when considering this option in a school setting. Both sides may bring supporters to the circle who have also been affected by the incident. The purpose of the conference is for the harm-doer and the harmed to understand each other's perspective and come to a mutual agreement that will repair the harm as much as it is able to be repaired. A formal restorative conference may be used as an intervention in conjunction with or in lieu of a disciplinary response depending on circumstances (e.g., a student participates in a formal restorative conference in conjunction with a principal or superintendent suspension).

Section 4 – Rights and Responsibility of the School Community

DIGNITY FOR ALL STUDENTS ACT

The Dignity for All Students Act (Dignity Act) ensures that no student is subject to discrimination or harassment, based on a person's actual or perceived race, color, weight, national origin, ethnic group, religion, religious practice disability, sexual orientation, gender/gender identity or sex by school employees or students on school property, on a school bus, at a school function or that is initiated off school grounds and continued at school.

Harassment may include, among other things, the use, both on and off school property, of information technology, including, but not limited to email, instant messaging, blogs, chat rooms, pages, cell phone, gaming systems and social media websites, to deliberately harass or threaten others. This type of harassment is generally referred to as "cyber-bullying."

The District is committed to safeguarding the rights given to all students under state and federal law. In addition, to promote a safe, healthy, orderly and civil school environment, all District students have the right to:

1. Expect a school environment that is conducive to learning
2. Be treated respectfully by those in the school community
3. Take part in all District activities on an equal basis regardless of race, color, creed, national origin, religion, gender, sexual orientation or disability (consistent with the District's Anti-Harassment Policy)

4. Be provided with school rules, and when necessary, receive an explanation of those rules from school personnel
5. Present their version of the relevant events to school personnel authorized to impose a disciplinary penalty, in connection with the imposition of the penalty

Addressing Bullying and Bias-Based Behavior

Each school is expected to promote a nurturing school culture that promotes positive interpersonal and intergroup relations and respect for diversity among students and between students and staff, providing all students with a supportive and safe environment in which to grow and thrive academically and socially. The ability of students to learn and meet high academic standards and a school's ability to educate its students are compromised when students engage in discrimination or harassment, bullying, or intimidating behavior toward other students.

Bullying and harassment can take many forms and includes behavior that targets students because of their actual or perceived race, color, national origin, ethnicity, citizenship/immigration status, religion, creed, disability, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, or weight. These behaviors pose a serious threat to all students, and it is a school's responsibility to eliminate the hostile environment created by such harassment, address its effects, and take steps to ensure that harassment does not recur.

Everyone in the school community—teachers, support staff, safety agents, cafeteria, custodial staff, bus drivers, guidance counselors, students, and parents—needs to understand what bullying is and the DOE rules that prohibit such behavior.

Clarifying school-wide rules that prohibit bullying and discrimination and discouraging bystander behavior (on-looking) are vitally important to helping students play a pivotal role in bullying prevention.

Integral to preventing student-to-student bullying and/or bias-based behavior is effective social-emotional learning that helps students develop social-emotional core competencies. These fundamental life skills are: recognizing and managing their own emotions, developing caring and concern for others, establishing positive relationships, making responsible decisions, and handling challenging situations constructively and ethically.

Students who are able to recognize and manage their own emotions are better able to be assertive rather than aggressive or passive when they interact with their peers. Students who develop caring and concern for others and establish positive relationships are less likely to engage in bullying or discriminatory behavior. Additionally, students who have learned how to make responsible decisions and handle challenging situations ethically and constructively are less likely to be bystanders and more likely to act as allies if a peer is the target of harassment of any kind. To help students learn how to be allies, the DOE offers teachers and counselors training in using the curriculum module Fostering Respect for All: Empowering Students to Move from Bystanders to Allies as well as other Respect for All professional development opportunities.

What is Bullying?

Bullying is behavior that is intended to cause some kind of harm. The person doing the bullying purposely says or does something to hurt the target of his/her behavior.

Bullying behavior always involves an imbalance of power (physical or social) or strength between the person doing the bullying and the target of the behavior. The person doing the bullying may be physically bigger or stronger or may be older or have greater social status or social power than the person being targeted. It is a pattern of behavior usually repeated over time and can take many forms.

Bullying is aggressive behavior by one individual (or group) that is directed at a particular person (or group). The aggressive behavior is unwanted and negative. It is deliberate and unprovoked. The targeted person is harmed by what is purposely being said or done.

Bullying Is NOT Conflict.

Conflict is a struggle between two or more people who perceive they have incompatible goals or desires. Conflict occurs naturally as we interact with one another. It is a normal part of life that we will not always agree with other people about the things we want, what we think, or what we want to do.

Most conflicts between students arise when students see the same situation from two different points of view. Think of some of the ways we describe people in conflict: “They were butting heads”; “They were going back and forth at each other”; “It was ‘he said/she said.’” In these cases, both people are equally “telling their side of the story.”

In a conflict people may get frustrated and angry. Chances are the amount of emotion each person feels will be relatively equal because both are vying for what they want. In the heat of the moment, one or both people’s emotions can escalate a conflict. All of us have known of conflicts in which people have said things to hurt one another which they later regret.

People engaged in a conflict want the issue to be resolved. The “back and forth” that occurs is each person trying to make the case for what s/he wants. When one or both people have the skills to resolve the dispute so that both sets of needs are met, the same conflict between the same two people most likely will not be repeated.

DISSEMINATION OF CODE OF CONDUCT

The Board of Education and Superintendent will work to ensure that the community is aware of this code of conduct by:

1. Providing copies of a summary of the code to all students at a general assembly held at the beginning of each school year.

The Board may appoint an advisory committee to assist in reviewing the code and the district's response to code of conduct violations. The committee will be made up of representatives of student, teacher, administrator, and parent organizations, school safety personnel and other school personnel.

APPENDIX D – PRE-K BEHAVIORAL INTERVENTIONS, SUPPORTS, AND RESPONSES

The Newburgh Enlarged City School District understands that all behaviors, positive and negative, have a function. Pre-K students exhibiting inappropriate behaviors are usually trying to avoid an activity (ie: assignment, request, or task) or obtain an item or seek attention. It is important for staff to determine the reason for a child's behavior so that an appropriate replacement skill is taught. Practices that allow educators to address behavior concerns as opportunities for learning instead of punishment are far more successful in changing a student's behavior than imposing punitive measures. In determining how to best address inappropriate, unacceptable, and unskilled behaviors, it is necessary to consider all of the circumstances surrounding the behavior (ie: age, cognitive and developmental abilities, response to intervention, Individualized Education Plan (IEP), Behavioral Intervention Plan (BIP), 504 Accommodation Plan, etc.) Other considerations may include but are not limited to, if the child is homeless, a foster student, and/or an English Language Learner.

As a response to unacceptable and unskilled behaviors, Pre-K staff will take time to speak with students about their feelings, which may have led to inappropriate behavior. Pre-K students will be encouraged to use their words to express their feelings and solve their problems with support from staff as needed. Staff will also help students verbalize their feelings, facilitate conflict resolution, use restorative practices, and problem-solve when necessary.

Pre-K faculty and staff are encouraged to use a variety of age-appropriate, research-based behavior intervention strategies including, but not limited to the following:

- Model appropriate behaviors
- Positive redirection
- Teach replacement skills
- Maintain realistic expectations
- Provide clear and simple limits
- Mediation and/or restorative circle
- Conflict resolution/Problem-solving techniques.
- Provide logical and natural consequences for children's actions
- Counseling
- Referral (ie: Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS), Response to Intervention (RtI), Building/Community Based Support Team, and/or Committee on Preschool School Education)

Our faculty and staff strive to maintain consistent and open communication with families regarding the progress of their children in school. The home/school connection is very important, and children must understand that families and school personnel are communicating and working together to meet their needs.

Pre K Student Behavior

When a Pre-Kindergarten student engages in serious or persistent aggressive behavior that causes injury or presents a significant threat to the safety of the student or others, the Principal shall respond with developmentally appropriate, positive behavioral interventions and supports designed to address the behavior and maintain a safe learning environment.

For more serious incidents, the Principal may require a disciplinary or behavioral referral and shall ensure that appropriate school-based supports, family communication, and additional interventions are considered. Any exclusionary discipline shall be used only as permitted by applicable law, regulation, and District policy, with consideration given to the developmental needs and circumstances of the child.
