PRINCIPAL'S UPDATE

Dear NFA Families,

As we enter the holiday season, I want to take a moment to express my gratitude for your continued support and partnership.

This time of year brings an opportunity to pause, reflect, and appreciate the strength of our school community.

As we prepare for the winter break, we encourage our students to practice simple self-care habits that support their well-being.

A few reminders for our Goldbacks:

- Take time to rest and recharge
- Stay connected with friends, family, and supportive adults
- Set aside quiet moments for reading, creativity, or reflection
- Maintain healthy routines—sleep, nutrition, and screen-time balance all matter
- Practice Self-Reflection: What went well this fall? What goals feel right for the new year?
- Stay organized by setting small goals for break (finishing assignments, planning ahead)
- Reach out if you need help; caring adults are here to support you!

We hope the winter break offers your family meaningful time together and a chance to return refreshed for the new year of learning and growth.

Wishing you a joyful holiday season and a healthy, peaceful New Year!
